The Peshkar of the Sri Ranganatha Swami temple has sent his original "Rs 99 2/0 0" of July 1869 and the Sha Amal Diary of Aug 1888 He is also reported that no other reference indicating the details of Sravana Nakshatra Katte & Isava during the life-time of the late Maharaja Sri Krishnaraja Wodeyar was found in the records

I have carefully examined the records and extracts from them & am as they relate to the question for consideration have been taken and placed on the file

The marginal indications & copies of the Jasoik Pattis clearly indicate that the utsava at Sravana Nakshatra day was in honour of Sri Vedanta Desika as the Jasoiks fixed are for Sravana Nakshatra & the Dasta chara Srinakshatra.

In the Rs 99 2/0 0 only the quantities of provision given for the Sravana Nakshatra are mentioned here nor the description of the utsava itself. The Sha Amal Diaries narrate the description of the utsava conducted on Sravana Nakshatra days.

Order 2292-94/dtd 5.10.19

From the extracts of Jasdik Papers and Sha Amal Diaries put up, it is obs that the Jeevanadhya festival of Sri Vedanta Desikar which falls every month on Sravana Nakshatra was being celebrated in addition to the Sravana Nakshtra Katte in honor of His late Highness' natal star and that owing to a natural confusion, as both the celebrations fell on the same day, prominence was given to one of them and it was assumed ~~seems to have been assumed~~ that the whole celebration was in honor of His Highness' birthday. ~~The Superintendent~~ The celebration of the festival was shifted to Chitta Nakshatra the natal star of His Highness the Maharaja.

A similar mistake having arisen with respect to Sri Vedanta Desika's shrine at Melkote, the mistake was rectified and the festival restored in the 2nd of the Pro. refd. to above.

Sri Arasigrachar

informed that the available records show that after the resignation of Kumara

Singlachar in 1863, his name was removed and the post was registered in the name of Sampathkumarachar under

Hassan Huzur Hukum no. 67

Dt 29-5-1863, as a permanent arrangement, that the name of the original barawardar

Kumara Singlachar does not find a place in the temple barawari from July 1863 onwards, and that therefore

Kumara Singlachar cannot be said to have reserved

any right to the office either for himself or for his descendants. For these reasons, review is rejected.
